

Conference: “How do we feel about democracy? Results of the European Social Survey”.
Warsaw, Staszic Palace, February 1-3, 2023.

Part I. Workshop “How Europeans view and evaluate democracy? Ten years later”

Workshop open for PhD students.

Wednesday, February 1, 16-18h

- 16-16.15h: Introduction to the workshop: (Mónica Ferrín and Hanspeter Kriesi)
- 16.15-17h: Chapter 1: Introduction (Mónica Ferrín and Hanspeter Kriesi)
Discussant: Dietlind Stolle
- 17-17.15h Pause
- 17.15-18h: Chapter 2: Challenges in the measurement of populism as an alternative model of democracy (Mónica Ferrín and Levente Littvay)
Discussant: Radoslaw Markowski

Thursday, February 2

SECTION I: VIEWS

- 9-9.45h Chapter 4: Changes in Europeans’ views of democracy (Enrique Hernández)
Discussant: Bernhard Wessels
- 9.45-10.30h Chapter 5: Changes in the structure of Europeans’ views of democracy: where does populism fit? (Hanspeter Kriesi)
Discussant: Pedro Riera
- 10.30-10.45h Pause – coffee break
- 10.45-11.30h Chapter 6: The determinants of citizens’ views of democracy (Besir Ceka and Pedro Magalhaes)
Discussant: Mariano Torcal
- 11.30-12.15h Chapter 7: Support for democracy and support for autocracy: two sides of the same coin? (Sergio Martini)
Discussant: Michal Kotnarowski

SECTION II: EVALUATIONS

- 12.15-13h Chapter 8: Changes in Europeans’ evaluations of democracy (Claudia Landwehr and Armin Schäfer) (online presentation)
Discussant: Sergio Martini
- 13-14h Lunch
- 14-14.45h Chapter 9: The determinants of citizens’ evaluations of democracy (Mariano Torcal and Alex Trechsel)
Discussant: Enrique Hernandez

The European Social Survey Round 10 in Poland and the event are funded by the Ministry of Education and Science, grant number DIR/WK/2017/2022/10-2.

SECTION III: RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN VIEWS AND EVALUATIONS

- 14.45-15.30h Chapter 10: The relationship between views and evaluations of democracy (Irene Palacios)
Discussant: Hanspeter Kriesi
- 15.30-15.45h Pause - coffee break
- 15.45-16.30h Chapter 11: Stability and Change – Legitimacy and Populism (Bernhard Weßels)
Discussant: Monica Ferrin
- 16.30-17.15h Chapter 12: Satisfaction with democracy and democratic legitimacy: what about populism? (Radoslaw Markowski and Michał Kotnarowski)
Discussant: Dietlind Stolle
- 17.15-18h Chapter 13: Democratic views, democratic evaluations, and vote (Mónica Ferrín, Enrique Hernández and Pedro Riera)
Discussant: Pedro Magalhaes
- 18-18.30h Concluding discussion (Monica Ferrin and Hanspeter Kriesi)

PART II. Conference: How do we feel about democracy? Results of the European Social Survey

February 3, 2022.

The conference is open to the public upon prior online registration.

- 9:00-9:10 Welcome speeches. Prof. Andrzej Rychard - Director of the Institute of Philosophy and Sociology, Polish Academy of Sciences, dr. Michał Kotnarowski – (IFIS PAN, Warsaw) National Coordinator of the European Social Survey in Poland.
- 9:10-9:50 Is there a crisis of democracy in Europe? - keynote lecture of prof. Hanspeter Kriesi (EUI Florence).
- 09:50-10:20 Europeans' Understandings and Evaluations of Democracy – European Social Survey round 10 data booklet presentation – prof. Monica Ferrin (University of A Coruña), prof. Enrique Hernandez (Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona).
- 10:25-11:30 Roundtable discussion: How do we feel about democracy in Europe – participants: Pedro Magalhaes (University of Lisbon), Bernhard Wessels (WZB Berlin & Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin), prof. Dietlind Stolle (McGill University, Montreal), prof. Magda Grabowska (IFIS PAN, Warsaw), chair: prof. Andrzej Rychard (IFIS PAN), 60 min.
- 11:30-11:50 BREAK - 20 min.
- 11:50-12:20 What went wrong with the 'what went wrong' question? – lecture of prof. Radoslaw Markowski (SWPS University & IFIS PAN, Warsaw), 20 min.
- 12:20-13:10 Europeans' views on democracy - panel session, chair – Michał Kotnarowski (IFIS PAN, Warsaw) 50 min.
- Democratic views, democratic evaluations, and vote - Pedro Riera (UC3M, Madrid)
 - The relationship between views and evaluations of democracy Irene Palacios (University of Murcia & University of Cambridge)
 - Support for democracy and support for autocracy: two sides of the same coin? - Sergio Martini (University of Siena)
- 13:10-13:25 Why do we need studies like the European Social Survey? – prof. Mariano Torcal (Pompeu Fabra University, Barcelona), 15 min.
- 13:25-13:30 Short conclusion - 5 min.
- 13:30 -14:00 Networking - 30 min.
- 13.45 Lunch.
- Finish ca. 2.30 PM

The European Social Survey Round 10 in Poland and the event are funded by the Ministry of Education and Science, grant number DIR/WK/2017/2022/10-2.

Workshop and Conference participants.

Mónica Ferrín is Intalent and Ramón y Cajal researcher at the Faculty of Sociology, University of A Coruña. Before moving to A Coruña, she worked at Collegio Carlo Alberto in Turin, and at the University of Zürich. Her research focuses on citizens' democratic attitudes and gender inequality in public involvement. She is the sponsor of the European Social Survey Round 10 module on 'Europeans' understandings and evaluations of democracy'. She is also interested in understanding the gender gap in public participation. Her research has appeared in the European Journal of Political Research, West European Politics, or the International Journal of Press/Politics.

Enrique Hernández is an associate professor at the Department of Political Science at the Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona. He completed a PhD in Political and Social Sciences at the European University Institute in 2016. Enrique's main research interests are in political attitudes, public opinion, electoral behavior, and democracy.

Hanspeter Kriesi is a part-time professor for Comparative Politics at the European University Institute in Florence. Previously, he held the Stein-Rokkan Chair at this university and he has been teaching at the universities of Amsterdam, Geneva and Zurich. His wide ranging research interests include the study of various aspects of democracy, political communication, political mobilization and opinion formation. 2017 he has received the Mattei-Dogan Prize, 2022 honorary doctorates from the University of Lucerne and the Mid-Sweden University in Sundsvall. Together with colleagues from the LSE and the University of Milano he is currently working on an ERC Synergy project on the impact of the recent multiple crises on the resilience of the European Union.

Pedro C. Magalhães is a Senior Research Fellow at the Institute of Social Sciences of the University of Lisbon, Portugal. He specializes in comparative public opinion, elections, and judicial politics, with a particular focus on the study of democratic attitudes and institutional legitimacy. Previous work has been published in the American Journal of Political Science, Political Psychology, and Comparative Political Studies, among others.

Radoslaw Markowski, professor of political science, at the Center for the Study of Democracy (Director), University of Social Sciences and Humanities, Warsaw and PI of the Polish National Election Study. Recurring Visiting Professor at CEU, Budapest, in the past visiting professor at Duke, Wisconsin-Madison, Rutgers universities. He has published in peer reviewed journals, among other in Electoral Studies, Party Politics, Political Studies, West European Politics, and has edited or co-authored many books in Cambridge, Oxford, Manchester University Press, Sage and Routledge. An expert of the Varieties of Democracy (V-Dem), Bertelsmann SGI project and the Hertie School of Governance. Member of the editorial advisory boards of a number of academic journals, among them: European Journal of Political Research, Political Studies, Populism, European Union Politics,

The European Social Survey Round 10 in Poland and the event are funded by the Ministry of Education and Science, grant number DIR/WK/2017/2022/10-2.

Sergio Martini (PhD in Political and Social Sciences, Universitat Pompeu Fabra) is Post-doctoral Fellow at the Department of Social, Political and Cognitive Sciences of the University of Siena. His research interests include public opinion, voting behavior, democracy and methodology. His articles have appeared among others in the European Journal of Political Research, Political Psychology and West European Politics. His book co-authored with Mario Quaranta and entitled “Citizens and democracy in Europe: Contexts, changes and political support” is published by Palgrave (2020).

Irene Palacios is an Assistant Professor at the University of Murcia (Spain) and a Research Associate at the Cambridge Centre for the Future of Democracy. She holds a PhD in Political and Social Sciences from the European University Institute in Florence and has been a Postdoctoral researcher at Maastricht University. She is the author of two books on citizens' attitudes about the quality of democracy in Spain and several journal articles. Her main research interests are located in the field of democratic attitudes, quality of democracy and political institutions from a comparative perspective.

Pedro Riera joined the Department of Social Sciences of the University Carlos III of Madrid in 2015, after having served as lecturer at the School of Government and Public Policy of the University of Strathclyde (Glasgow, UK) between 2013 and 2015. He obtained tenure in 2017 and became associate professor (i.e., profesor titular) of political science in 2019. His main areas of interest are comparative voting behaviour and electoral systems with a quantitative approach. His research has been published at the European Journal of Political Research, Comparative Political Studies, West European Politics, Political Behavior, and Party Politics, among others

Dietlind Stolle is James McGill Professor in Political Science at McGill University and former Director of the Inter-University Centre for the Study of Democratic Citizenship. She has also been elected Fellow of the Royal Society of Canada. Stolle conducts research and has published on voluntary associations, trust, social capital, ethnic diversity, immigrant integration, political participation, neuro-politics, democratic backsliding and gender and politics. Her work has appeared in APSR, JOP, PNAS, BJPS and other journals. Her book “Political Consumerism—Global Responsibility in Action” (2013) by Cambridge University Press (with Michele Micheletti) won the Comparative Politics Prize of the Canadian Political Science Association. In 2021/22 she was a Fernand Braudel Fellow at EUI, while in 2023 she joins the Robert Schuman Centre at EUI as a visiting fellow working on the EUI-yougov survey on European solidarity.

Mariano Torcal is a full Professor in Political Science and ICREA Research Fellow (2014-2019, and 2020-2025) at the Department of Political and Social Science at the Pompeu Fabra University in Barcelona and Director of the Research and Expertise Centre for Survey Methodology (RECSM). Ex-President of WAPOR Latinoamérica University. Senior Adjunct Faculty at the Graduate School of International Studies at the University of Denver since 2006. He has published several articles on topics such as political disaffection, political trust and satisfaction with democracy, electoral behavior, political participation and party system institutionalization in major international journals. Member of The Editorial Boards of many International Journals. Current co-editor of Revista Latinoamericana de Opinión Pública.

The European Social Survey Round 10 in Poland and the event are funded by the Ministry of Education and Science, grant number DIR/WK/2017/2022/10-2.

Bernhard Weßels is a professor of political science at the Humboldt University Berlin, and he was the acting director of the research unit "Democracy and Democratization" at the WZB until its closure in 2022. He was the principal investigator of the German CSES election study since 1996 and has co-directed the German National Election Study from 2009 to 2020. He is directing the DFG-financed manifesto project and Work Package 4 of the EU-funded OPTED project. His research interest includes comparative political behavior, interest intermediation, and political representation.